NEWS RELEASE

METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT

Service, Integrity, Leadership, and Fair Treatment to All

The SLMPD Laboratory Division would like to recognize the outstanding efforts of Evidence Technician Unit Officers Julie Davis, Karl Gottschalk, Kelly Tippett, Harry Collins and Daniel Claudin.

In 2012, these officers successfully completed a rigorous education process and were certified as Certified Crime Scene Investigators (CCSI) by the esteemed International Association of Identification (IAI).

Once all required training and preparation is completed in order to achieve certification, as a Crime Scene Investigator (CCSI) applicants must successfully pass a 200-question test. These officers invested a significant amount of their own personal time to ensure completion of the testing process. Having officers with this level of certification in our Evidence Technician Unit reflects positively on the SLMPD Laboratory Division as well as the entire Department. Without their personal initiative and drive, this certification would not have been achieved. Congratulations to Julie, Karl, Kelly, Harry and Daniel.
